Our School

Geneva Business School provides Swiss-quality business education in Geneva, Barcelona, and Madrid. We offer bachelor's, master's, MBA, and diverse continued education options that are 100% in English, and we are committed to using innovative learning methods and new technologies.

Our Students

Students enjoy personalized mentoring, unique networking events, and support and guidance for internships and business ventures. A practical education in the classroom, combined with exposure to the real world of business means Geneva Business School students graduate job-ready.

Our Faculty

Our faculty members all work actively in their sectors and offer their insights into current business trends as well as access to their own global networks. They organize business challenges, from creating companies and writing business plans to market research and much more. This commitment to quality teaching and our interactive campuses provide a 360° learning experience to fully prepare students for the modern workplace.

Our Learning Approach

Project-based learning at Geneva Business School is a fundamental part of our teaching style, as it prepares our students for international business environments. Interactive learning in our Google classrooms enables our students to fully engage with the material, increasing their confidence and skills for the world of work. They also frequently pitch to investors, which is invaluable in bringing their learning to life and applying theory to real-world situations.

Our Motto

Real Business, Responsible Leaders

Our Global Vision

With a professional faculty from all parts of the world, students representing over 80 nationalities, and partners on all continents, we truly embody the 21st-century global business ecosystem.
